1. As previously arranged, Informant 2584 was met by 35176 at 2000 hours, 12 February 1951, in Salzburg/Maxglan. At the time of the meeting 2584 entered a confidential sedan bearing C registration plates and was driven by 35176 to a safe area.

2. In the course of the subsequent meeting 2584 presented 35176 with material gathered from subresources. The balance of the meeting was taken up by a lengthy discussion initiated by 35176 asking that 2584 be prepared to disclose the identity of his subresources. 2584 expressed great reluctance to disclose identities stating that he did not want to break his word given to the subresources, as recruited, that identities would not be disclosed. 2584 claimed that he had recruited subresources over a period of five years ostensibly as Austrian Intelligence Service operatives and that if he disclosed their identities he fears that if word would get out concerning his US connections the net might collapse because of his failure to hold the trust of the operatives. 35176 informed 2584 that the identities would be regarded as highly classified and that actual identities would be retained by 35176 only as a basis for evaluation of sources and information, as well as a means of identifying individual subresources in case of an emergency. 2584 stated that he would like additional time to contact several of his key subresources, feel them out, and think the matter over himself. 35176 believes that 2584's reluctance is based on genuine concern over possible compromises and that he will disclose requested information after a period of discussion.

3. The next meeting was then arranged and at 2125 hours, 2584 was deposited in the vicinity of the pickup point.
